Nick Sarin Promoted to Assistant General Manager For CDM Electronics Turnersville Facilities

Turnersville, NJ, August 19, 2019... CDM Electronics has announced the promotion of Nick Sarin to Assistant General Manager, where he will assist in overseeing all functional areas of the Turnersville facilities to include manufacturing and quality. Nick started at CDM in 2010, with his most recent role that of Value Added Engineer where he was instrumental in planning and implementing new or updated value-added manufacturing protocols and capabilities. Nick's contributions include CDM's groundbreaking modular and specialized production cells, and innovative overmolding program. Nick has a thorough understanding of all production protocols, which gives him a unique perspective with which to assist in directing and the coordination of the day-to-day operations along with executing CDM's corporate vision. Nick is a passionate problem solver and has a unique commitment to providing every customer with a premier experience. Nick is a resident of Sewell, NJ, and is an avid golfer and Philadelphia sports team fan.
